PE&T Peer Review Guidelines for 2018

General Guidelines:

- Tenure-track librarians are reviewed by 5 tenured librarians.
- Tenured librarians are reviewed by 3 tenured librarians.
- Tenure-track librarians are not assigned to do peer-reviews, but may do so if they wish.
- Supervisors do not peer-review librarians that they supervise.
- Librarians do not peer-review their direct supervisors.
- If possible, peer-reviews should be done by others in the same department.
- If possible, peer-reviews should be done by others who serve on same committee(s).
- If possible, librarians should have at least one different peer-reviewer from year to year.
- Librarians receiving tenure in 2018 are still tenure-track librarians for the purposes of the 2018 peerreview process. [no such librarians in 2018]
- [If peer reviews are not evenly distributed amongst all tenured librarians, PE&T Committee members do fewer reviews.]

2017 tenured librarians that will participate in the peer-review process for the first time in 2018:

- Anna Craft
- Erin Lawrimore

2018 tenured librarians that will not be assigned peer-reviews:

- n/a

List of Tenure-Track Librarians for 2018 Peer-Review:

- Karen Grigg
- Samantha Harlow
- Tiffany Henry (new hire for TS)
- Katherine Hill
- Jennifer Motszko
- Maggie Murphy (new hire in ROI)
- Rachel Sanders (new hire in ROI)
- Kathelene McCarthy-Smith